SLAIN BECAUSE OLD LOVE

Girl Broke Troth to Go Back to Former Husband.

WAS KILLED IN COLD BLOOD

Spurned Lover Lay In Wait at Camp Meeting and Made Sure His Deadly Aim Was Effective-Murderer Es caped and No Trace of Him Found.

Crisfield, Md., Sept. 1.-It was be cause pretty Mamie Gunby, daughter of J. H. Gunby, a well-known farmer, discovered on the eve of the very day that had promised to become the wife of Isaac J. Waters, that she loved a former husband, whom she had dithe more, that she lost her life at Waters' hands at St. Paul camp meeting, five miles from here, on Sunday. The details of the tragedy, which has excited the entire Eastern Shore. came out Tuesday. Although all the surrounding country has been searched ever since the murder, no trace of Waters has been found.

Five years ago Miss Gunby, then but sixteen years old, married Joseph Roley, from whom she secured a divorce after less than a year, returned to her home in Somerset county and resumed her maiden name. Waters, who was an old suitor, began to press his claim again and met favor in her After three years of ardent courtship the young woman consented to become his wife, and the wedding day was set for last Sunday at St. Paul's camp ground.

Old Love Returned.

Saturday morning Miss Gunby arrived at the camp, and on the evening the proposed marriage of his former hurt wife to Waters. As a result, he atthat the wedding planned for the next day could not be solemnized. In a pas- ing a y damage sion Waters left the camp.

three other young women were walking in the camp ground near the road. As they approached the highway they came face to face with Waters, who stepped out of the woods with a dou ble-barreled shotgun. The companions of Miss Gunby interpreted the man's Intention, but before they could interfere he raised the gun and fired the shot that killed the woman whom he had expected to make his wife on that

The religious gathering was thrown into a panic. Dr. C. E. Collins, of Crisfield, went to the scene in an aucomobile, but the woman had died a few minutes before he arrived. Coroner Mortimer Ward empaneled a jury, whose verdict was that the woman was shot by Waters, and the body was carried to the girl's home. As soon as the campers recovered from their shock a posse, headed by the girl's former husband, began a search for the murderer. Deputy Sheriff Tull, of Marion, also was summoned, and he organized a searching party, but so far all efforts have been without avail

CHILD BURNED TO CRISP

Played at Stove and Her Clothing Became Ignited.

Lancaster Pa., Sept. 1.-Elsie Eisenberger, the six-year-old daughter of George Eisenberger, of Millway, was burned to a crisp. During the temporary absence of the mother, the child played at the stove and her clothing became ignited. When she ran from the kitchen to her mother in the yard she was ablaze from head to foot.

Robbed, Bound and Placed In Sack. Bristol, Tenn., Sept. 1.-Rev. N. F. Malone, a Free Will Baptist minister, was attacked and robbed of $8.75 by bandits in a lonely pass of the Holston mountains, en route to his home. He was severely beaten and his body was tightly bound and placed in a His skull was fractured and several ribs broken. New York, Sept. 1 .- Seven little children, inmates of St. Malachy's with the ewes except during the breed-Home for Children at Rockaway park, death, while hundreds of persons were L. I., were suffocated in a fire which destroyed a portion of the home.

There were 750 children in the insti RECEIVED THE ROOSEVELTS tution, which is conducted by the sisters of St. Joseph of Brooklyn. Most of them marched out of the buildings in good order when the fire alarm was Rambouillet, France, Sept. 1.-The sounded, and it was supposed that all had escaped, until the little bodies were found in the smouldering ruins.

Nearly all of those burned to death were under five years of age. The fire was discovered in the laundry. Three hundred and fifty small children were in their cots on the third and fourth floors, and some of the older children were attending evening prayers in the

As the alarm sounded the older children marched from the chapel to the boardwalk along the beach, and the nuns and attendants rushed to the work of carrying the little children from their cots in the floors above.

SUCCESS WITH SHEEP.

Can Be Raised With Profit on Abandoned Farms.

There is no reason why sheep cannot be raised profitably on any land where there is grazing. While the consumption of mutton is constantly increasing, and particularly the consumption of lambs, the number of sheep in the country is decreasing. On any hilly land or land that has been cleared of timber which will afford good browsing sheep can be raised at small expense.

If the farmer has to buy feed of course his profits will be much smaller than if he could raise it on his own land. But there are many abandoned farms in the east that can soon be brought up to a state of fertility that will raise sufficient crops, such as alfalfa, roots and some of the hardier grasses, and these will under good management return good profits from sheep raising.

For such land the Southdown and Shropshire are good breeds. They are good foragers, but it must be understood that sheep, while they may be able to subsist on land that will not support larger animals, cannot be properly fattened for market on poor grazing alone.

Every man must study the conditions surrounding his land, its nearness to market, the price of feed-in it-and must judge for himself whether his venture is likely to prove profitable

I think it better to buy old ewes. because young ewes are very high in price, says a successful breeder. From the old ewes a start can quickly be made and the old ones disposed of the

The ewes should be dipped before being brought to the farm and every precaution taken to prevent disease. They must have dry, warm quarters for winter, because sheep will not thrive in the mud. They should never be allowed to stand out during heavy rains or snows, because a wet fleece is a bad thing.

The flock should be carefully culled every spring. The old ewes should be sold and the best ewes retained for breeding purposes.

The most important matter in starting a flock is the selection of a ram Buy a first class animal even if the price seems high

The ram should be of the type desired. Do not make the mistake of buying a ram of the wool breed to produce mutton. Do not dispose of the strong, healthy ram as long as it acre; No. 8, 3 95-100 of an acre; No. produces strong, healthy lambs. He should have a small pasture by himself and should not be allowed to run

CUTICURA CURED HIS SORE EYES

When 63 Years Old Eye-Balls and Lids Became Terribly Inflamed -Was Unable to Go About - Home Remedies and Professional Treatment were Equally Unsuccessful.

TOOK FRIEND'S ADVICE: HAS NO MORE TROUBLE

"About two years ago my eyes got in such a condition that I was unable to go about. They were terribly inflamed, both the balls and lids. I tried home remedies without relief. Then I decided to go to our family physician, but he didn't help them. Then I tried two more of our most prominent physicians, but my eyes grew continually worse. At this time a friend of mine advised me to try Cuticura Ointment, and after using it about one week my eyes were considerably improved and in two weeks they were almost well. They have never given me any trouble since. I was then sixty-three years old and am now sixty-five. I shall never fail to speak a word of praise for the Cuticura Remedies when I have an opportunity, and I trust that this letter may be the means of others being cured as I have been. G. B. Halsey, Mouth of Wilson, Grayson Co., Va., Apr. 4, 1908."

The shock was railroad express train with a dynamite felt especially in the higher quarters cartridge, and at the point of a revolver compelled the crew to carry thousands of dollars in coin and bullion from the express car to a spot in the wilderness. When the conductor of the train attempted to interfere dition bordering on panic until assur with the robbers' plans he was shot in the hand, and the bold bandit succeeded in making good his escape.

Mistook Lincoln Pennies For Gold. In the darkness, however, the robber mistook a bag containing 10,000 new Lincoln pennies for gold coin, and staggered away with it, leaving the real gold bullion to be recovered by the railroaders.

When the news of the robbery reached the railroad and express company officials they were deeply concerned at its boldness, and immedi ately ordered every available detec tive from the east and west to the scene in an effort to capture the audacious bandit. Bloodhounds were also put on his track, but with no immediate success.

The looted train was made up of an sleeping coaches filled with passengere. It was running through Lewistown narrows, a wild and lonely mountain gorge, through which flows the Juniata river, when suddenly a dynamite cap exploded, and the engine still. When he looked out to see what the trouble was he was confronted by a masked figure, holding a revolver in either hand

Forced Crew to Carry Loot.

"Are there any mail cars on this train?" demanded the highwayman, 'No." was the reply of the startled engineer. The engine crew was then forced at the point of the gun to ac company the robber to the first express car, where the messenger was looking out to discover the cause of the sudden stopping of the train. A revolver was poinetd at the messengers' head, and threatening to blow up the car with dynamite, the robber forced the messengers of the two express cars and engine crew to carry all the gold and bullion stacked in the first car to the side of the tracks. Conductor I. R. Poffenberger, of Harrisburg. Pa., who came up while this work was being accomplished, was ortied one of his revolver's at him, one of the shots penetrating his hand and the other grazing his body. Bullion Found Beside Track

Despite the appearance of three passengers, who had been awakened by the shooting, the robber calmly ordered the crew back on the train and compelled them to steam away, leaving the bullion beside the track. It was recovered later by a posse sent on a special train. It was reported that, in addition to the missing pennies, several thousand dollars in currency was missing, but the express company officials refuse to announce the exact amount of their loss.

No clew to the robber's identity has yet been discovered. He is described as being about five feet eight inches in height, and was dressed in dark clothing and wore a slouch hat pulled well down over his eyes. When the train was leaving he called out, "Goodbye and good luck. I hope to see you again."

"A bully idea!" exclaimed all at once. "Very well, we'll do it, but I want you fellows to understand that you're to obey orders and treat me as recaptain, you know.'

This put a different complexion on the matter, but all considered it jokingly and one by one agreed to "sign articles." The crew were put ashore and given railroad tickets to their suits, put on ordinary sailors' togs and reported to their captain for duty.,

For the first day it was pleasant sail ing, but on the second the sky took on a dirty look, the wind freshened and increased to a gale. Since they were One morning tired, soaked and soiled they put into the barbor of one of the most aristocratic towns on the coast. However, the weather had changed and the sun sparkled merrily on the
